

Love Someone

Tekst og musik: Jette Torp

Come on sisters, let's do this right
Do we really wanna live single lives?
Come on brothers, let's give it a chance
Don't be naïve believing it's all romance - it's all romance

It might be easy - and it might be nice
To have this me myself - and none-loving life
But on a bitter cold and rough, rainy day
There's no one to hold you, no one to say - hey are you ok

Like small desert islands we're drifting around
Tempted of the sight but keeping both feet on ground
There's no use in falling in love one more time
Cause I'm fine- but I say

Don't start shaking soon as love hits your heart
Uh love some - uh love someone
Move a little closer - this might be a new start
Uh love some - uh love someone

Once bitten twice shy
That doesn't mean we'll never touch the sky
He might not be exactly a George Clooney thing
And she might not remind you of Minoque when she sings - na na na, na na na na

But less can do better
And less can be more
More than just a superficial flirt in the door
It's easy leaving - so much harder to stay
But that's the way it is, so I say

Don't start shaking soon as love hits your heart
Uh love some - uh love someone
Move a little closer - this might be a new start
Uh love some - uh love someone
Don't just give it up when things fall apart
Uh love some - uh love someone
Give it a try and simply light up your heart
Uh love some - uh love someone

There`s no point in growing old on your own
Even though we see ourselves as free rolling stones
There'll be thunder, sunshine and rain
But then again - I say

Don't start..
